

A Healthy Delta Means Business!

Congressional Leaders Are Coming to the April 27th Farms & Salmon Summit in Antioch, CA to Meet with Farmers & Fishermen

RESTORE THE DELTA!

Delta-dependent communities, jobs, and families are at stake in the tug of war over California's water, along with our priceless heritage. The Farms & Salmon Summit will highlight the impact of water management decisions on Delta agriculture and salmon fishing, and solutions to restore a healthy Delta. Members of the public will join us for the protection of Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta agriculture and restoration of the West's iconic salmon run.

WHO: Representatives John Garamendi, Jackie Speier, Mike Thompson, Jerry McNerney, community leaders, agricultural producers, sport & commercial salmon fishermen and businesses, agricultural & conservation groups, and friends of the Delta.

WHAT: Farms & Salmon Summit to bring attention to Delta-dependent farming and fishing communities, and to provide a forum to discuss long term solutions to California's water woes.

WHERE: Antioch Community Center, 4703 Lone Tree Way, Antioch, CA.
There is ample free public parking at the center.

WHEN: Wednesday April 27, 11:00 am to 2:00 pm.

A Healthy Delta Means Food: The event will include a free Delta Bounty Reception hosted by Coastside Fishing Club Grill Crew, Guisti's Place, McCormack Ranch, and Rivermaid Trading Company - so make sure you arrive on time!

- OPEN TO THE PUBLIC -

For more information, please visit www.salmonwaternow.org.

Printed in house on office computer